Old Business:

- Memorial Day celebration at Ingalls Park was fantastic. Missed it...try next year's event.

New Business:

- Day of the Cowboy, July 22 at 9 am for the opening ceremony, at the rodeo grounds on 6th Street. Moreno Arena.
- Getting ready for the Posse Rodeo and the Norco Fair; volunteers will be needed for both.

SPEAKER: Councilmember Robin Grundmeyer

Robin spoke of the different commissions she sits on for the City.

- Youth Advisory Council for Government Processes. Applications went out to JFK and Norco H.S. Grades 9-12th invited to apply. Nine students attended training from Oct. to May. Several volunteered at various government happenings. Will become more active when school starts up in the fall. A Youth & Govt. Day is planned for late fall.
- U.N.L.O.A.D. Committee Lt. Riddick states that there are a lot of resources that are being made available. Several students are in need of the basics and through teachers and other members of the public they are being identified and helped. (Some need food, housing and help coping with parents who are failing to support them because of alcohol or drug use.) General information meeting to be announced in Aug or Sept.
- School Committee Meetings attended which deals with the City and the School District's needs.
- New help at the Norco High School called "Food Insecurities" started by the FFA faculty and students. It offers reduced sales of food to families (students) who need food. The products are grown at the high school's Agriculture Dept. and is helped subsidized by various grants supplied for this purpose. Along with food, basic toiletries are also supplied to those students/families who are in need.

Question and answer period concluded the above discussions.
